Benefit for the Orphans. We ask our city readers to remember that Prof. Hartley, the elecutionist, will give one of his recitations at Metropolitan Hall to-morrow night, under the auspices of the Masonic lodges of the city for the benefit of the Oxford Orphan Asylum. He will recite a number of pieces of different character, and the reputation which he bears justifies the prediction that he will do it well. He is strongly recommended by many of the leading men and journals of the country; and both for his own sake and that of the cause which he represents, we hope the hall will be crowded. Among the selections, are: Horatius, Father Blake's Collection, Love in a Balloon, Scene from Hamlet, Curfew Shall not Ring To-Night, and Buck Fanshaw's Funeral. Admission 50 cents. 1877.

A Year of Momentous Political Events.

Prospectus of the Raleigh News.

Momentous events are thronging to the front. Two political parties of the country are marshaling their intellectual forces for the constitutional battle, on which hangs the fate of the government or the ensuing four years, perhaps for all the time. From now until the 4th of March the republic will be the theatre of a drama more thrilling in interest than any before enacted in America, to be followed, in all probability, by a period of the profoundest concern to all our people. Some predict a terrible clash of arms, but whether or not war results from the turbulent condition of the public mind, it is certain that the year 1877 will see thick crowding occurrences of great moment. Of these events and circumstances the News will be a watchful, faitnful chronicler. Its news will be the freshest and fullest that competent and experienced journalists can obtain on whatever field the same is to be collected.

The NEWS will endeavor, in its editorial course, to uphold the constitution and the laws guaranteeing a truly republican form of government. It will counsel moderation in the treatment of political questions, but firmness in the defence and maintenance of right, as the ouly foundation of enduring peace. The NEWs is the authorized organ of the Democratic party. In all its departments-News and Correspondence, Political, Commercial, Financial, Agricultural, Local, Miscellaneous, &c., the NEWS will at least sustain the character it has so long held, and which has been acknowledged in thousands of commendations from the press, and from the reading public.

Penitentiary. The names of the gentlemen selected appear in our Legislative reports. THE dispatches from Florida are of high importance. The law may yet give us the electoral vote of the State, and canvass of the votes must inevitably give Florida to Tilden. WE present to-day the views of a distinguished lawyer of Halifax county upon the subject of county government. He makes some pertinent suggestions; and the whole merits the consideration justice triumphant in the end. A reof those who have this question in hand.

UNDER the brightening prospect for a peaceful and honest count of the electoral vote, business will improve daily. The announcement that the Joint Committee had agreed was immediately hailed throughout the length and breadth of the land as an omen of better times.

THE CHANGED PROSPECT.

It was predicted by the the land that the joint committee electoral count would be unal wisest and most hopeful statesmen looked to the future with deep-seated auxiety. With the two great parties standing in solid array against each other on the main questions connected with the count, the spectacle of two Presidents claiming on the 4th of March was among the possibilities, and a collision of authority ending in bloodshed and disaster was by no means improbable. Indeed, the present occupant of the White House had already begun to prepare for a conflict; there were ominous movements of troops and munitions of war; and there was the whispered command along the whole line, " make ready for a fight." Several Republican Governors, filled with the same grave apprehensions or animated by the same desperate purpose as moved President Grant, had seriously talked of placing the militia of their respective States upon a war-footing. Even a Democratic Governor, Blue Jeans Williams, was reported to have taken steps towards mobilizing the Hoosier militia, with the view of marching on Washington should the Democratic party in Congress call for help. The fact cannot be disguised, nor forgotten, that the cloud no bigger than a man's hand did for awhile darken our political sky, and brave men trembled for the possible fate of the

But now all apprehensions of a collilision at Washington in the settlement of the Presidential question may be laid aside. The danger is past-unless Congress refuses to adopt the report of the committee, a turn in affairs so improbable that it is hardly worthy of consideration. The committee is a fair representation of Congress, and their matured views will no doubt prevail in both the Senate and the House. The plan which they propose, though entirely novel to the American people, offers a certain method of reaching an impartial, honest and constitutional solution of the unprecedented difficulty which now confronts us, and must commend itself to the wisdom and prudence of the members of Congress as the best that can be done under the circumstances.

Although the plan suggested does not make certain what will be the final result of the count, we think the bare fact that the committee agreed upon any plan of procedure is a favorable omen for Mr. Tilden. Because this ent involves the defeat of the conspiracy headed by Mr. Morton, who now stands alone in his refusal to assent to the report of the committee. This malignant, unscrupulous man leads the extremists. They have insisted that the President of the Senate should count the votes; that the count should take place in the Senate Chamber, contrary to custom that the Senate had powers superior to those of the House in the decision of all questions springing from or connected with the counting; and, in short, that the policy of the majority in the Senate should prevail, if it required the whole army of the United States to enforce it. The conclusions of the committee are in direct antagonism with such revolutionary ideas as these. The President of the Senate is to confine himself to the simple duty of opening the certificates and handing them over to the tellers: the Senate must sit in the Hall of the House of Representatives during the progress of the count; and the jurisdiction of the two houses over the matter is recognized as concurrent. This knocks the pins from under the Morton-Chandler scheme; and it must tumble

The overthrow of the conspirators before the tug of war begins is of itself sufficient cause for rejoicing. But more than this, the country has cause to be glad that the moderate, law-abiding. peace-loving men of Congress have at last got control of "the situation." Extremists of both parties will now take back sea's; the reins fall into the hands of cooler, wiser and more patriotic men; and the destinies of the nation will no longer be shaped by partisan blindness and fury, nor by individual ambition. And now just in proportion as justice and honesty govern in the decision of the question, does the prospect of Mr. Tilden's ultimate triumph bright-

THE bill reported by the special committee in regard to the count of the electoral vote was taken up and discussed in the Senate yesterday. No opposition among Democratic Senators to the plan proposed by the committee has yet manifested itself; but the Republicans exhibit more opposition than was expected. It is said that the measure will find some vigorous opponents in both parties, but it is understood that many leading Republicans and Democrats will vigorously champion it; and it is believed that the bill will become a SITTING Bull Morton is the only member of the Joint Committee who refused to agree to the report. It is cause for universal congratulation that this malignant bull-dozer is losing his influence in Congress. The haters of the South, and natural enemies of honor and decency, no longer have the upper hand at Washington.

THE Western North Carolina Railroad bill comes up for discussion in the Senate on Tuesday. The bill should pass: that this great work of internal improvement may be completed at an early day. The time has come for the Democratic party of North Carolina to redeem its promises to our brethren in

LETTER FROM HALIFAX. O'Hara's Sine Against the County of HALIFAX Co., N. C., Jan. 17, '77.

Sir:—Your exposure of the rascalities of West, the expet-bag clerk of Craven Superior Court, adds another to the long list of services your able and fearless journal has rendered to the cause of honest government. Let me ask you to add another. J.

E. O'Hara, the carpet-bag negro, who, as chairman of the board of county commissioners of Halifax, lords it over the finances of this county, requires your attention. An able and intelligent committee of the citizens of the county who were appointed to examine the county finances last summer reported that such was the condition of county affairs, that an examination of the books would not reveal the entire indebtedness of the county. That no one knew how much the county did owe. That they could scertain, however, that at least $9,000 to $10,000 of the county money was improperly out of the Treasury. Among the "items" the Committee found that O'Hara had appropriated several hundreds of dollars to himself by a vote of the board "for legal services." The Committee further reported that owing to the collusion and counivance of the Judge and Solicitor, all attempts to indict O'Hara had been frustrated. In spite of all these revelations an irresponsible negro majority re-elected O'Hara in November and he is at liberty to spoil as again. Can the white men of the west look on and not help us? Is there anything worse in South Carolina than this the North Carolina owes an undying debt of gratitude to your noble paper. In your columns within the short space of twelve months (to go no further back) have been exposed and denounced the carpet and stationery stealings of How-erton Radical Secretary of State; the bribery record of Tourgee; the dis-closures as to Holden; the tampering with the mails by the Newbern post-master; and more lately the peculations of John Pool and I. E. West, and many others. Now let jour calcium light fall upon O'Hara and his gang.

The people of this district, especially, are under obligations to you for the resignation of Watts which you aided so powerfully to bring about. They endorse too your recommendation of Gen. Cox for his successor. You may rest assured that the people recognize your services and that the affection and regard in which our State organ is held is North CAROLINA. as wide as

Plan of the Joint Committee.

[N. Y. Herald, Jan. 19.] The joint committee's plan has the crowning merit of being so framed that its adoption does not of itself decide the election. It is neither a "jury to acquit" nor a "court to convict."

The adoption of this plan will get the which it has been forced to live since last June, and especially since November, and which has depressed all industry and enormously increased poverty and pauperism everywhere. It gives the best assurance of a just settlement that assurance of a just settlement that can be had. It relieves us from all apprehensions of a stormy 4th of March and of the vague dangers which every man feels may easily become but too real. It provides for a settlement which all honest citizens of whatever party would consider final, and immediate and cheerful acquiescence in which will be imperatively demanded by public opin-ion. What more can be asked? Men may shout and asseverate "Hayes is elected," "Tilden is elected," to the end of time; but mere assertion amounts to nothing and convinces no one of the opposite belief. Almost any way of getting a decision would have been better than continued uncertainty and turmoil. Here ts a method all the elements of which are constitutional and promise an honest and legal result. If this plan should be rejected by Congress no other can be contrived, for there is not time. The country would then be left to a fate we do not like to contemplate-to a wrangling and furious Congress; to the secret intrigues and bolder strokes of demagogues to an increasing excitement among the people, all ending probably in violence and perhaps in civil war, or at the best in lasting discontent on one side or the other. Is that a desirable prospect?

Exposures of Corruption.

[Fayetteville Wide-Awake.] The RALEIGH NEWS is an excellent "noser." It will be remembered that some months ago the local editor of that paper discovere I defalcation or swinding on the part of Howerton, Secretary of State; and now he comes out and publishes John Pool, late Superintendent of Public Instruction, as having misappropriated the funds placed in his hands for the education of the Cherokee Indians in this State. What the honorable (?) John will say to this charge remains to be seen; but at any rate, we can but admire the vigilance and the boldness of the NEWS.

That the said courts shall have full power and authority to hear, try and determine all civil actions, within their respective counties, where the original jurisdiction is not by law confined to a justice of the peace or to the Supreme Court; of all penalties in-curred by violation of the penal statutes of the State, or of laws passed by the Congress of the United States where, by such law, jurisdiction is given to the courts of the several States; that the said courts shall have full power and authority and original and exclusive jurisdiction, within their respective counties, to try, hear and determine all suits of dower, partition, filial portions, legacies, and distributive shares of intestate's estates, and all other matters relating thereto; all matters relating to orphans, idiots and lunatics, and the the management of their estates; and shall have original jurisdiction to try, hear and determine all larcenies, assaults and batteries, all trespasses and breaches of the peace, and all other crimes and misdemeanors the judgment upon conviction whereof shall not extend to life, excepting those only whereof the original jurisdiction is given exclusively to a justice of the peace.

SEC. 10. That the justices of the peace of the several counties shall, on the —— day of January, 1879, and every six years thereafter, elect an experienced attorney properly qualified to advise them in all matters pertaining to the discharge of their duties, who shall be allowed by the said justices adequate compensation for his services, to be paid by the county; that said attorney shall act for and on behalf of the State in said courts, in their respective coun-ties, and shall prosecute all matters cognizable in said courts, and receive the same fees as are allowed by law to solic itors in the Superior Courts in like SEC. 11. To at the practice and proedure of the Superior Courts shall, in like cases, govern in said courts.

SEC, 13, That upon an appeal from a judgment or order from the court of pleas and quarter sessions to the Superior Court, the appellate court may reverse, affirm or modify the judgment or order appealed from, and as to any or all of the parties; and may, if necessary or proper, order a new trial. When the judgment is reversed or modified the appellate court may make complete restitution of all property and rights lost by the erroneous judgment.

Sec. 14. That said courts shall have and exercise every power and prerogative necessary to the enforcement of their juriseiction, and the conduct of their business, which are exercised by the Superior Courts.

Sec. 15. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act are re-

I wish to call particular attention to the fact that under this act the counties can have poor judges or good ones to provide over their courts, just as they may see proper. The judge elected by the justices may be of any vocation, and his salary much or little. And where two or more counties desire it, they can elect the same person to preside over their courts, and together provide for and pay his salary. If my letter was not already so long I would show how the above act would remedy or prevent two evils-the trial of the same cause before two juries, and the great number of appeals to the Supreme Court.

Hoping that what I have written will not be construed as an attempt to instruct or dictate to the members of our Legislature, but will be taken as simply an humble expression of my views, I am, yours very truly, CITIZEN OF HALIFAX.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Col. E. A. Burk, of New Orleans who is accredited to Washington by Gov. Nicholls of Louisiana, visits the President this m raing accompanied by the Democratic delegation in Congress from that State. The Senate during the morning have discussed the message of the President in regard to the occupation of Petersburg, Va., by the military on election day, Withers and Morton participating in the discussion. At the expiration of the morning hour, on motion of Mr. Edmunds the Senate took up the bill reported by the special committee in regard to the count of the electoral vote. Both parties in the Senate caucussed this morning on the electoral count bill. Neither party meeting was intended to be binding. In the Democratic caucus, nothing was said against it, but in the Republican caucus more opposition was expressed than was expected. Morton has a despatch from the secretary of the Republican caucus of the Indiana Legislature, which says his course in withholding his name from the report is unanimously approved. Jan. 20.—Col. The Turks Threatening to March on Belgrade--The Ottomans Said to Be Conciliatory -- Europe Urged to Enforce Her Original Demand.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—The Porte informs Servia that the armistice will not be renewed. The Turks will march on Belgrade March 1st, unless Servia treats directly with Turkey.

A despatch from Constantinople to the Reuters' Telegram Company, says the Grand Vizier was summoned to the palace yesterday.

It is stated that the Ottoman plenipotentiaries will present counter-proposals at the sitting of the conference, the object of concilation. Should this be the case, it is not easy to foresee what will be the attitude of the European delegates. Yesterday they were understood to be disposed to declare the conference at an end, but if the Turkish proposition should appear worthy of examination, it is not impossible that the conference will be adjourned until next week for arriving at a decision.

A Reuter despatch from Moscow says to-day's Gazette, discussing the result of the conference, concludes as follows: "Europe has lowered her prestige by her complaint humor. As the Porte has refused the proposals, Europe must now enforce her original demands, instead of the modified scheme of the confer-

Bills in the House-The House in Committee on the Indian Appropriation -- Speeches on the Electoral Bill--Edmunds Makes a Strong Speech on It. WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 .- House .- A bill passed removing the political disabilities of Joel S. Kennard, of Georgia. The House resumed the consideration of the resolutions reported from the committee on privileges, and after a speech by Willis, of New York, Seelye, of Massachusetts, obtained the floor but yielded to a motion for the House to go into committee of the whole on the Indian appropriation bill, pending which Payne, of Ohio, gave notice that he would call up for consideration on Tuesday the bill reported from the join committee on electoral votes, the debate on said bill to proceed until Wednesday night, when he would demand the pre vious question.

In committee of the whole, speeches were made by Welshire, of Arkansas, opposing the power of the Vice President, by Tarbox, of Massachusetts, declaring that the judgment of the people revolted at any attempt at compromise on the Presidential question, and by Chittenden, of New York, declaring himself strongly in favor of the bill of the joint committee on electoral vote. The Indian bill was then considered by sections, but without disposing of the bill the House adjourned,

Conkling presented a petition from citizens of New York, protesting against the passage of the steamboat bill. On motion of Edmunds, the Senate took up the bill to provide for and regulate the counting of the electoral votes for President. He spoke two hours, arguing the constitutionality of the bill and against the power of the President of the Senate to count the votes. Having had an article in the constitution read, Mr. Edmunds commenced:

"Under this article of the constitution some eight or ten million of the citizens of the United States authorized by the laws to select a chief magistrate in the way prescribed in this article. hal endeavored to discharge that duty. They had exp.essed their preference and the contest was so close that it became a matter of serious dispute be tween five million people on one side and five million people on the other, as to which of their candidates had been elected. Congress was now brought face to face with the question as to what means were left for deciding this dispute. A large part of the people on both sides believed their candidates to have been honestly elected, and if kept out of the office, a great constitutional wrong in their opinion would be committed. If there was any duty greater than another devolving upon Congress, it was that of providing some means by which, no matter what the result might which, no matter what the result might be, all men might say the due course of law had been taken. It had appeared to the committee charged with the operous and unpleasant duty of framing this bill, that if the constitution authorized them to lay down a line of procedure which should lead to any result, through the calm, orderly administration of law, it would be a beneficent act for the republic. On the contrary, if for the republic. On the contrary, if Congress should fall to do this, our posterity under this or some other form of government, no one could say, would feel that this Congress had failed in performing a great duty."

He then referred to the labors of the entire the referred to the labors of the committee, and said opposing political education and partisan feeling had subsided on both sides, and the measure upon which they solemnly united in reporting, they recommended to the consideration of the Senate. He then explained the provisions of the bill at length. The speech attracted carnest attention.
